

Even More Ease in Digital Services for HSBC Indonesia Corporate Customers

The payment portal launched last year¹ is now more integrated

Jakarta, 19 April 2021 - PT Bank HSBC Indonesia (HSBC Indonesia) introduced further development in the Digital Accounts Receivables Tool (DART) platform integrated with the leading payment aggregator.

This platform will allow corporate customers to switch their manual invoice reconciliation process into electronic by directly integrating with a payment portal that supports various payment methods and online payment channels.

François de Maricourt, President Director of PT Bank HSBC Indonesia said, "HSBC is committed to strengthen digital platforms that enables our customers to automate and increase efficiency in their operations. The improvement in DART is another important milestone in our digital priorities."

Herani Hermawan, Head of Global Liquidity and Cash Management (GLCM) of PT Bank HSBC Indonesia said, "We understand the increasing needs of customers for process automation and digitization to support their operational efficiency. We therefore are continuously improving our digital services. By integrating DART with a payment portal, we can help customers reduce operational risk and streamline cash flow, so they are able to focus on developing their business. "

DART platform is accessible via the web and android application.
